

swissnordicbio

Connecting Healthcare Innovations, Investors & Industry

ALLISON COLBERT, MD

Technical Officer, Pricing & Affordability, Access to Medicines & Health Products World Health Organization

Allison Colbert is a Technical Officer at the WHO, focused on global pricing, reimbursement, and HTA issues for essential medicines and health products. Allison joined WHO from the OECD, where she also worked on innovation and access to new health technologies, and as a strategic policy advisor on life sciences evidence development at Avalere Health in Washington DC. Allison's initial training is in genetics at Harvard, where she researched the genetics and epidemiology of age-related macular degeneration. She holds masters degrees from the University of Sheffield, UK and the Ecole des Hautes Etudes en Santé Publique, France.